

SPRING PROGRAM 2013

RELEASE DATES OF OUR NEW BOOKS

Dear Press Colleagues,
Dear Friends of Schirmer/Mosel,

Enclosed, please find a copy of our program for spring 2013, hot off the press. Once again, there is a lot to look forward to. Please allow me to draw your attention to a few other Schirmer/Mosel releases in spring 2013:

Waits/Corbijn '77-'11, a collector's edition linen slipcase book limited to 6,600 copies, is scheduled for a May 8th release in US and Europe. The coffee table art book not only features over 200 pages of Waits' portraits taken by Corbijn over four decades, but also includes over 50 pages of the first published collection of musings and photographs taken by Waits himself. The cloth-bound book has introductions written by film director Jim Jarmusch and longtime music critic Robert Christgau.

Waits/Corbijn '77-'11. Photographs by Anton Corbijn. Curiosities by Tom Waits.
(272 pages, 226 color and duotone plates, US $200.00)

Paintings & Ledger Book Drawings by Edward Hopper shows for the very first time his most beautiful paintings and related handwritten notes and repro drawings (which he made so as to save himself the photographer) in direct juxtaposition. The transcriptions of his comments not only provide information on his compositions, pictorial ideas, and materials, they also reveal an economic secret.

Edward Hopper: Paintings & Ledger Book Drawings
(152 pages, 112 color plates, US $49.95)

August Sander's work is not only a milestone in the history of photography; his depictions of society continue to influence and inspire professional photojournalists and artists who work with the medium. Now also available in an English version, this monumental publication is a must-have for every photography enthusiast. Sander's masterpieces such as the pastry cook or the young farmers are timeless icons, enthralling in their artistic precision and the hidden stories of past times.

August Sander: People of the 20th Century
(808 pages, 619 duotone plates, US $125.00)

I hope you enjoy browsing and leafing through our Spring Program. Please contact my colleague Samantha Waller in New York (swaller@prestel-usa.com) and me (press@schirmer-mosel.com) regarding any book(s) you're interested in presenting. We look forward to receiving your feedback. Best wishes for 2013!

Yours,
